

Asking

*I'm only asking you to meet me
There's nothing further I have planned
But I'm in need of human contact
You don't have to try to understand*

*I'm only asking you to meet me
To stay a little while I mend
Because I need some re-assurance
To make these dark hours sooner end*

*I was only asking you to meet me
But I was scared you might decline
'Cos I asked you here in hope of rescue
Think you've got here just in time*

*But now I'm asking you to hold me
While the past is leaving me behind
It would be kind if you would listen
Just don't expect I'll flatter womankind*

*But now I'm asking you to hold me
Remind me life won't always be like this
To hold me close, to feel my heart beat
You've drawn me back from the abyss*

*I was only asking you to hold me
But I was scared you might decline
Now your arms around me feels like rescue
Think you've got here just in time*

*I was only asking you to hold me
I wasn't seeking love a-new
But now I dare to wonder could you need me
The way I think I'm needing you*

© Robin Bailey 2006